

I prefer that the laws Do-Not-Call laws enacted in my state (NJ) remain in effect. The US government can and should provide a minimum of protection in these matters for all states, but individual states should be allowed to protect themselves further if their people want it.